I PROGRAM MAPPING

Introduction

Academic Education Programs Sponsored by Ministry of Commerce PRC

Starting from 2008 , Academic Education Programs sponsored by the Ministry of Commerce of People’s Republic of China is designed to foster high-end business officials and managerial personnel for the recipient countries, offering one-year and two-year master programs as well as three-year doctoral programs. The programs are aiming at cultivating inter-disciplinary talent working in the fields of politics, economics and trade, foreign affairs, agriculture, technology, education, culture and health and public management, providing intellectual support for the economic and social development of the recipient countries. The programs provide fund to governmental officials, research fellows, and senior managerial personnel for their master or doctoral education in China, which are fully conducted in English. Admission requirements include a bachelor degree, more than 3-years relevant working experiences, and good physical conditions, which are essential for the high-compact curriculum required for the degrees. The program is playing a more and more important role in the economic cooperation and development between China and the students’ home countries.

China Women's University

China Women's University is located in Beijing, the capital of China, near the Olympic village. It is the first state-owned women's university, affiliated with All-China Women's Federation. With more than 70 years of development, it has become one of the major centers to mentor Chinese women talents. As part of Chinese and global women's education network, China Women's University has attached great importance to research and social services, playing a leading role in research fields such as gender studies, gender equality, rights and interests' protection for women and children, women in media and women's leadership. It actively participated in the 4th World Women's Conference in 1995 and its following events in Beijing.

School of International Education

School of International Education, China Women's University, is responsible for conducting the university's international cooperative education programs and the oversea students' programs. It adheres to the vision of open education, embracing the advanced international education concepts and management practices. It actively carries out all-round and multi-level international exchanges and cooperation by integrating the best resources of education cross different disciplines. It has established intercollegiate partnerships with its counterparts from more than ten countries.

It has undertaken the international program of Master of Social Work in Women's Leadership and Social Development, which is sponsored by Ministry of Commerce PRC. By now this academic education program has trained 120 students from 33 countries. On May 30, 2019, President Xi Jinping's wife Peng Liyuan met with our project participants in the Great Hall of the People. She hoped that after returning homelands from China, the participants could become a bridge and link connecting the two countries and contribute to the promotion of global women's issues, and building a community with a shared future for mankind.

Prospective Students

Our prospective students are female government officials, university deans, or administrative staff in academic institutions at division level or above from developing countries of Africa, Asia, and Latin America etc.

Program Objective

The program has the theme of women's leadership and social development. It has the goal of enhancing the students' capacity of applying social work theories and methods into practices, and improving their leadership skills to advocate, organize and enhance women's participation in social development; letting them deeper understand the responsibility of promoting gender equality for the governments in transition, and sharing China's practices and experiences of promoting women's development.

Enrollment Plan

We plan to enroll up to 25 students in our two-year master program on “Social Work” with English as the teaching language.

Financial Aid

The Chinese Ministry of Commerce will provide "Chinese Government Scholarships" to admitted students from developing countries. These scholarships cover both tuition and living expenses. The tuition includes the cost for textbooks, required field research expenses and guidance

Field Work in Countryside

fees for graduation thesis. Meanwhile, living expenses include accommodation fee, international student insurance in China, as well as 36,000 RMB/year for the master program. There is also a settlement allowance of 3,000 RMB/person. Two return flight tickets will be provided: one for coming to study in China and going back when the whole program finishes, and the other for home visit during school holidays. The scholarship only covers normal graduation; any expenses arising during extension of study time won't be covered.

Affected by the global COVID-19 epidemic, the project will be implemented in a combination of on-line and off-line studies. If the students postpone their visit to China, the payment form of living allowance will be implemented in accordance with the latest regulations of the Ministry of Commerce.

Living Environment & Facilities

Beijing has four distinct seasons, characterized by hot and humid summers, and generally cold and dry winters, meanwhile, springs and autumns are comfortable and pleasant. The average temperature in January is $-3.7\text{ }^{\circ}\text{C}$ ($25.3\text{ }^{\circ}\text{F}$), while $26.2\text{ }^{\circ}\text{C}$ ($79.2\text{ }^{\circ}\text{F}$) in July. The cost of living in Beijing is a bit higher than most cities in China, with the food costs about 1200 yuan / month.

Students are provided free single bedrooms in the international students' dormitory on the campus. Some of these rooms are equipped with private toilet and bathroom and will be assigned to new students by following the rule of 'first come first served'. Other facilities include public laundry, public kitchen 24-hour hot shower-water, and air conditioner and free Wi-Fi. Dormitory is accessible to students only.

II CURRICULUM

Overview

Our master degree program is a two-year full-time program. Students enrolled in this program are expected to complete a minimum of 32 credits of study, including 15 credits of 4 core courses, 12 credits of selective courses, and 5 credits of the field work and a thesis within two years.

Study assessment will be conducted at the end of the first academic year. Unqualified students will not continue scholarships until the second academic year.

The courses' emphasis is laid upon applying interdisciplinary theories and multi perspectives of researching methods into practice, and let the students have a deeper understanding of gender and social development, women's leadership, as well as the theory and methods of women's participation in social development. The courses also aim at actively exploring the political and social factors hindering women from governance and decision-making. Theoretical studies will be combined with fieldwork and practices to effectively enable the students to better participate in government decision-making and governance.

Students graduated from this program will possess both broad academic vision and solid professional basis to enhance their leadership capability, their ability to participate in government decision-making, as well as to advocate and encourage women's participation in social development in their home countries.
